SUN ALWAYS SHINES AT FLUVANNA REUNION

Palmyra, July 28.—In selecting the last Saturday in July as the annual reunion day for the Fluvanna Camp of Confederate Veterans, twenty years ago, Colonel William B. Pettit, the first commandant, said that his father had kept a weather record for fifty years, and the last Saturday in July had unfailingly been a fair day, that he himself had made a mental note of the day, and had never known it to be inclement. Since 1890, when the camp was established, the day has always been an ideal one for the occasion, and last Saturday was no exception. The morning skies were slightly overcast, but the sun soon came out to shine a benediction, and cool breezes fanned the kindly crowd of men, women and children gathered on the court green to do honor to the old soldiers and spend the day in social converse.

Attorney-General Williams gave a fine address to the veterans. Pembroke

Pettit spoke a few encouraging and inspiring words to the Fluvanna Chapter, United Daughters of the Confederacy, and Captain C. G. Sneed gave a very interesting account of the reunion at Gettysburg. A big dinner was served, and the day was much enjoyed by the large crowd present. "Old Soldiers Day" is the "home-coming" day for Fluvannians, and many happy groups of friends look forward to the day from year to year. Notable among the reunions on Saturday was that of the first class of the Palmyra High School, which was established in 1889, and was the first rural high school in Virginia. The faculty of that year, Rev. Thomas Haden, Misses Rosa Shepherd, Rebecca Cleveland and Anna Winn, and twenty of the pupils were present.

Odds and Ends From the Wire

VICTIMS OF ANGRY COW.

Fearing for Newborn Calf, Animal Attacks Everything in Sight.

Mr. Holly, N. J., July 28.—Harry V. Kester, of Westfield, N. J., and his son, Norman, of Mt. Holly Avenue, while in their yard were attacked by an angry cow, which had given birth to a calf, and which attacked everything in sight.

Screams attracted the attention of a crowd of neighbors, who rushed to the scene. Mrs. Kester was badly injured and carried to the house in an unconscious condition. As soon as Kester rushed to the scene he fell over some boards and the angry animal got on top of him and began to gore with her horns, but the prostrate man succeeded in escaping. A crowd drove off the animal, but she returned and renewed the attack, getting Norman for a victim, but was again driven off. A physician dressed the wounds of the victims and they will recover.

FIRST RIDE IN AUTO AT NINETY-NINE.

Aged Postville Woman Takes Chance on Birthday Anniversary.

Scranton, Pa., July 28.—After refusing repeated invitations, Mrs. Martha Monroe, of Postville, near here, finally consented to take an automobile ride today, the first in her life. In honor of her ninety-ninth birthday anniversary. For five years her children had urged her to take a spin in the automobile owned by one of them, but the many accidents of which she read in the papers caused her to be timid. To-day when she reached one year of her century mark she declared that as she had not much longer to live anyway, she might as well take a chance in the "peaky thing." She did and returned delighted.

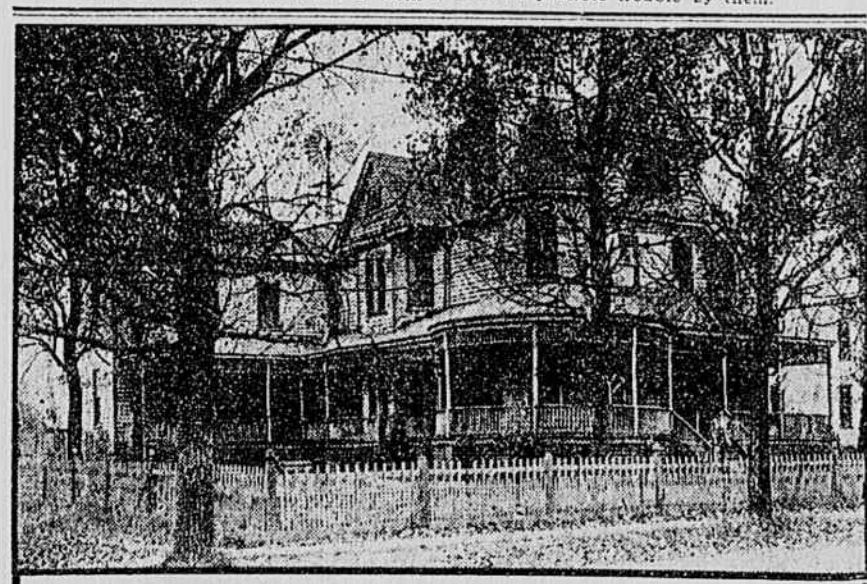

BULL CHARGES RED AUTO.

Fort Plain, N. Y., July 28.—Not content with the damage which his big Holstein bull did to the red touring car of Joseph Coffey, of East Orange, N. J., today, the owner of the animal caused the arrest of Coffey for injuring a valuable cow of the farmer's herd. Coffey, with his wife and son, on tour of Central New York, encountered the herd near Canastota. The cows were slow in making way for the automobile and one was struck, causing her to bellow with pain and fright. Inflamed by the cow's howling complaint and seeing the red car, the bull charged, breaking the lamp and otherwise damaging the machine, before being driven off.

The justice of the peace before whom Coffey was taken for examination adjourned the case to await the development of the Holstein's injuries.

HOUSTON HEARS JUDGE WILLIAMS

Candidate for Attorney-General Pays His Respects to The Times-Dispatch.

[Special to The Times-Dispatch.]

Houston, Va., July 28.—Although a small crowd was at court Monday when a recess was taken by Judge Barksdale, the courthouse was filled with a large and enthusiastic audience to hear Judge Samuel W. Williams present his claims for re-election to the office of Attorney-General. Judge Williams' speech was largely taken up with an explanation of what he had accomplished for the State during his incumbency and a defense of his record, dwelling at some length on his service in the West Virginia debt settlement and the successful termination of the legislation of the Commonwealth with the Richmond, Fredericksburg and Potomac Railroad. He paid his respects to The Times-Dispatch and News Leader, and ridiculed the vaunted claims of Pollard and Cumming as to their great legal ability.

Judge Williams spoke to a responsive audience, and his remarks were frequently applauded. The meeting was called to order by R. Hall Easley, county chairman, and Judge Williams was introduced by Commonwealth's Attorney Booker in a red-hot speech predicting that on August 5 the county would give Williams such a rousing majority that, like Colonel Cabell, he would exclaim when the returns came in: "God bless old Harry!"

No other candidate was here as there is no contest for the House of Delegates. Very little interest is being taken in the primary, and the vote will be very light.

PHYSICIAN TAKES LIFE WITH RAZOR

Dr. John W. McPherson Slashes Throat, Despite Father's Restraining Efforts.

Burlington, N. C., July 28.—Dr. John W. McPherson, one of the county's most prominent physicians, committed suicide at the home of his father, Sam. McPherson, at Snow Camp, near here, this morning at 5 o'clock. The father had a suspicion that the deed was contemplated, and when Dr. McPherson slashed his throat the father got the razor away from him, but by almost superhuman force the crazed man got it again, made another slash and inflicted a mortal wound. Nothing could be done to save his life.

Because of domestic troubles, Dr. McPherson and his bride of about two years separated six weeks ago, and a reconciliation seemed impossible. He brooded over this fact until his mind became unbalanced. He was a native of this county, a physician of great repute, having practiced fourteen years at Haw River. He had made a specialty of eye, ear, nose and throat. His practice was by far the largest in the county until he voluntarily discontinued part of it.

GOING TO HIGHWAY MEETING.

[Special to The Times-Dispatch.] Greensboro, N. C., July 28.—Governor Craig and his party from Western North Carolina arrived here to-night en route to the North Carolina good roads convention at Morehead City. They are traveling by automobile over the Capitol Highway. An informal reception was tendered the party at a local club.

HORSE RUNS AWAY; PASTOR IS INURED

Rev. Francis H. Craighill Thrown From Buggy on Mountain Side.

[Special to The Times-Dispatch.] Wytheville, Va., July 28.—Rev. Francis H. Craighill, rector of St. John's Church, met with a serious accident yesterday afternoon as he was driving across the mountain to fill his regular appointment at Ivanhoe. The horse he was driving shied suddenly at some hogs that came out of the bushes, turned completely around and dashed off down the mountain. Mr. Craighill remained in the buggy for half a mile, when at an abrupt and rough turn in the road he was thrown out, his head striking a rock, which made a serious wound of several inches on his forehead, a portion being away the scalp to the bone. He otherwise sustained severe bruises on the shoulders and back. Notwithstanding the painfulness of his injuries, he drove back to town, where he received surgical attention from Dr. W. H. Ribble, Jr., who had to take eleven stitches to close the wound in the forehead. Though the injuries are very painful, the physician does not think they are dangerous. To-day Mr. Craighill was up and cheerful, though very sore.

HIS ATTEMPT SUCCESSFUL.

[Special to The Times-Dispatch.] Greensboro, N. C., July 28.—Arthur L. England, who attempted suicide two weeks ago by shooting himself through the body, died in St. Leo's Hospital to-day, after having lingered several days between life and death. A girl-wife and small child survived. Financial obligations were responsible for his act.

Safeguarding the Contest

Entire supervision of this contest will be turned over to three of the city's eminent men, whose names will be announced later. These Booklovers' Contest Judges will have immediate and personal charge of the contest game, certifying to the list of correct titles, conducting the checking of the sets of answers and approving the selection of the winning sets.

BEWARE OF FAKERS Who Offer to Sell Worthless List of Titles---They Cannot Help You

How They Work

These fakers generally advertise that for a 2-cent stamp they will send several titles, which, in the opinion of the fakers, will prove correct titles to the pictures. Accompanying the "sample" lists of titles will be a letter advising that for 50 cents, a dollar, two dollars, or more, they will supply lists of titles that will seem to fit the pictures. Don't deal with these sharpers. If they could furnish a list of titles, they would solve the pictures—they would use their own lists and win the prizes. They know no more about the titles than you do.

The Times-Dispatch is now compiling a new catalogue, containing 5,000 book titles, from which will be selected the 77 titles which the pictures will be drawn to represent. This catalogue will contain a new and novel and helpful feature, and will be offered to the public shortly.

A four-page pamphlet, giving all details of this contest, was printed in this newspaper several days ago. If you did not see it, send a stamp or call at the office.

What the Contest Is

It consists of 77 pictures, one published each day in this paper, and each picture representing the title of a book. You simply tell what book title each picture represents, and when all 77 have been published, send in your set of answers. You will find this an easy, simple game, and the rewards are large. You can win.

The Times-Dispatch's Great $1200.00 Gold Booklovers' Contest

Date July 29th.

What Book Does This Picture Represent?

Write Title and Name of Author in Form Below

Title

Your Name

Street and Number

City or Town

TOTAL NUMBER OF PICTURES, 77. Contest began July 27th. Each day a different picture appears in this space. Cut them out. Save them until the last picture appears on October 11th. Don't send in partial lists. Wait until you have all the answers to the 77. Read Rules, Daily Story and Special Announcements in another part of this paper. It will help you win a prize. Extra pictures and coupons of any date that have appeared may be had at 2c. Enter to-day without registering your name. Merely Save Pictures and Coupons as they appear.

Here Are the Rules—Cut Them Out Save for Future Use.

The contest is open to all the readers of this paper. Only Times-Dispatch employees and members of their families are barred. Daily for 77 days will be published in The Times-Dispatch a picture representing the title of a book, one each day. Beneath this picture will be a coupon to fill in with the name of the book and the author, together with the name and address of entrant.

Cut out the picture and coupon, filling in the book title and author's name, writing your name and address neatly and plainly in the place provided.

No restrictions are placed on the manner in which answers to pictures are secured. Each picture represents the title of one book only. If you are not certain of your solution you may send in one to ten answers to the picture. NO MORE THAN TEN ANSWERS WILL BE ACCEPTED TO A PICTURE. Incorrect answers will not count against contestant if correct answer is also given. And put one answer to each picture and coupon. Extra coupons must be secured and used for extra answers. All answers to each picture must be kept together in compiling your set.

Additional pictures and coupons may be obtained at The Times-Dispatch office, by mail or by person. Answers will not be accepted unless they are properly filled out on the coupons appearing beneath each picture. It is necessary that pictures be sent in with the answers in order that all answers may be uniform.

When you have all 77 answers, fasten them together and bring them or mail them in a neat flat package—not folded or rolled—to The Times-Dispatch office, addressed "BOOKLOVERS' CONTEST EDITOR." Prizes will be awarded contestants sending in the largest number of correct solutions. In the event of two or more persons having the same number of correct solutions, the person using the smallest number of extra coupons on the set of answers will be declared the winner. In the event of two or more persons having the same number of correct solutions, and using the same number of coupons, an equal interest in the prizes tied for will be given to each of the tying contestants, or the persons involved in the tie may choose any one of the lesser prizes.

More than one prize will not be awarded to any one family at one address, but each member of the family may enter the contest and submit a complete set.

Only one complete set (comprising not more than ten answers to any one picture) of answers may be submitted by a contestant. Awards will be made strictly according to the merit of each separate list. The names of more than one person must not be written on any one coupon.

All answers will be considered on their merits. The first set filed will have no preference over the last set filed; provided only that answers must be filed within the time specified after the last picture has appeared.

The awards will be made by the Contest Editor and three well-known citizens whose names will be announced later.

The correct answers to the series of pictures will be filed with a local trust company or bank previous to the close of the contest.

Entry to the contest may be made at any time. All communications or letters of inquiry concerning the contest should be addressed to the Booklovers' Contest Editor, The Times-Dispatch.
